IIF PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM

The Insurance Sector in 2040: A Forward Look

The insurance industry faces significant changes as the sector evolves at a fast pace. In the program we will focus on factors which will contribute to changing the insurance landscape. Our expert industry practitioner speakers will look forward into the future, and provide a vision for insurance in 2040.

A macro economic outlook, analysis into product distribution, service offerings, technology, innovations, geo-political factors, regulatory and policy considerations will form the agenda. An important focus on the insurance customer will take place in this program.

This forward look will enable attendees to make valuable conclusions about changes and developments to sector. These expert practitioner visions will help to determine forthcoming senior leadership and management oversight decisions. Future strategy and business operational plans will all benefit from these powerful insights.

This course can be tailored and offered in-house according to the specific needs of your firm. Please contact us at training@iif.com for more information.
